The collection changed hands a number of times, the imprints varying accordingly; most of the volumes were retained or reprinted with a new t.p. as "Nouvelle édition", usually without imprint date, but with the date of the original edition in the notice of copyright registration ("déposé etc.") on the verso of the half-title facing the t.p. A few of the volumes were published in one or more revised editions, enlarged, and usually dated on the t.p. The successive imprints (disregarding minor variations) are:

4 v. 18^{cm}.

Titre 4 has title: Bibliothèque des philosophes, alchimiques ou hermétiques.

This compilation is commonly ascribed to William Salmon as the Paris edition of 1822 has "Par le Sieur S" in the title, but Ferguson (Bibliotheca chemica, v. 2, p. 330) finds no authority for identifying "le Sieur S" with William Salmon.

"It was originally the plan of Ernest P. Bicknell to write three books covering his own experience. The first, Pioneering with the Red cross, was completed and published before his death in 1935, and the second, In war's wake, was practically complete at that time, needing only some rearranging and editing. The material for the third volume, With the Red cross in Europe, was to be found only in notes, diaries and letters, in scattered records, and in the Red cross files. It (Continued on next card)

Not mentioned in Quérard's bibliography of Lamennais (in Supercherie, 1868-70, t. 2) nor in F. Delaunay's Essai de bibliographie de La Mennais, 1925.

In the last chapter of the second volume (chap. xviii. Philosophie de l'enseignement) the author refers to himself as having put in practice for some eight years just a new rational method for teaching Latin analogous, as he was told later, to that of Jacotot of whom he had not heard before.

Binns, John, 1773-1860.

Monumental inscriptions. These inscriptions, compiled from authentic sources, but principally from official documents, communicated by the Department of war to Congress, on the 25th of January, 1828, are, in this form submitted to the serious consideration of the American people, under the firm conviction, that the facts embodied in them, ought to, and will, produce a cool and deliberate examination of the qualifications, from nature and education, of General Andrew Jackson, for the high civil station to which he aspires ... Birgitta, Saint, of Sweden, d. 1378.

The revelations of Saint Birgitta, edited from the fifteenth-century ms. in the Garrett collection in the library of Princeton university by William Patterson Cumming, vii. n. London, Pub. for the Early English text society by H. Milford, Oxford university press, 1929.

xxix, 135, (1) p. 2 farsim. (incl. front.) 32 1/2". (Half-title: Early English text society. Original series, no. 178. 1929 [for 1928])

Originally submitted, with changes, as editor's doctoral dissertation, Princeton university.

The Revelations, originally written in Swedish, were translated into Latin by one of the Saint's confessor. This Middle English version, written before 1475, contains selections which follow the Latin closely, though rearranged. The introduction includes John Awdeley's Salutation to St. Birgitta.
